Student Council

Determined to make a dream of many years become a reality, Student Council centered its efforts on a major goal — the purchase and erection of a campus bulletin board. Pizza sales and dances were but two of the widely varied fund-raising activities scheduled to raise the money to finance the project. Under the leadership of President James Geiling, Student Council worked closely with their advisor, Mr. Dougherty, to conduct a program of service to school and community. Representative committees also served as liaison between the student body and the administration to discuss, evaluate, and assist in the formulation of school policy.

Tattler Staff — 1974

Sincere determination translated into hard work characterized the 1974 Tattler Staff whose single objective was to publish a yearbook — a summation of four years of experiences and memories for all students — and especially for the class of '74. The editors and staff, under the guidance of Mrs. Lobb, accepted the responsibility of designing, planning, writing, and financing The 1974 Tattler.

Debating — Bible Study

Discussing the Word of God to gain practical knowledge for victorious living served to inspire the Bible Study group.

Interest in current affairs attracted students who, under Mrs. Cackley's guidance, debated public funding of political campaigns and federally guaranteed minimum income. For their efforts they placed third in LVL competition.

Meeting bi-monthly, the Youth Education Association acquired insight into many phases of education through tutoring experience and hearing guest speakers from the field of education.

Chess Club, organized by Mr. Smith, in its first year conducted a Round Robin among its ten members and went on to do well in district competition.

Sadie Hawkins Day

Seniors sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance on January 19. To lend reality to the setting, "Marryin Sam" wedded willing couples for the evening. Girls caught their favorite beaus to dance to the music of "The Strangers." Excitement reached its peak when Miss Sadie Hawkins, alias Holly Hudson, crowned Carson Zellner and Darlene Krause King and Queen of Dogpatch.

Turkey Day

One of the main activities leading to the climax of the Turkey Day festivities, the Senior Class Breakfast attracted hundreds of Seniors eager to spur the Big Green team. Signs proclaiming "Super Senior Spirit" plastered cafeteria windows. Cheers of excitement penetrated the walls to infect all passers-by.

E-Hive Staff

Budding journalists met weekly with advisor Gertrude Gordin to publish the "E-Hive." Circulation frequency was cut from monthly issues to two issues per term. The staff functioned with two objectives in mind: to achieve meaningful experience in journalism, and to publish a student paper of journalistic quality.

International Relations — Collage

Stressing creativity, the Collage staff collected, organized, and screened original art and literary works submitted by students. Under the advisorship of Mr. Trollinger and Mr. Weiant, the staff compiled and edited this annual literary publication.

Also dedicated to serious purpose, the International Relations club studied and analyzed current world affairs and evaluated their importance and overall effect upon mankind.

Under the direction of Mr. Neil Morgan, Future Business Leaders of America sought to teach the fundamentals and responsibilities of the business community to students interested in business careers. Analysis and identification of business problems and keys to their solution provided ample material for interesting and informative weekly club meetings.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA. BOTTOM ROW: Gerry Evans, Cathy Schantz, Penny Rauen-

Future Secretaries — Library Aides

FUTURE SECRETARIES OF AMERICA. BOTTOM ROW: Donna Wink, Catherine Ackerman, Stephanie Funk, Deborah Ferrell, Karen Billger, Mrs. Mary Yeager

Newly added to the list of activities, the Future Secretaries of America organized to supplement their knowledge of secretarial skills. Under Mrs. Yeager's guidance, practical programs attracted those with a business career in mind.

Through an excellent program of instruction, Mrs. Cranston, Librarian, trained Library Aides in the principles of the "active library." Voluntarily the Aides assisted in performing the daily duties relative to the efficient functioning of the Media Center.

National Honor Society

Upholding the four-fold requirements for National Honor Society membership — scholarship, service, character, and leadership — the EHS chapter of '73-'74 completed a variety of projects. Officers worked with Mrs. Lobb to carry out a student tutoring program, to support a foster child, and to serve as student guides and hosts to visitors and newcomers.

OFFICERS. Louise Meminger (President), Jean Lobb (Advisor), Tom Fiest (Treasurer), Wanda Transue (Secretary).

Key Club

Whether selling basketball programs, helping retarded children, or cooperating with their Kiwanis Club, the Key Club and its advisor, Mr. Wesser, maintained its tradition of friendly service to school and community. In its twelfth year of organization, the Key Club expanded its objectives to become active in welfare and ecological projects.

Outdoors Club — Art Club

Organized to broaden appreciation for the various art media, the Art Club afforded opportunity for individuals to work independently on projects in such areas as silk-screen, copper enamel, pottery, and silver jewelry crafting. Selling their art works at a craft bazaar financed field trips to local museums.

Interest in woodlore and outdoor life generated the necessary challenge for the formation of the Outdoors Club by Mr. Takacs. Purposeful recreation and informality in sharing experiences served as the chief purpose of the group.

Eagle

Concerned with environmental protection, the EAGLE Club concentrated on Camp Suamme, a community-owned camping and proposed recreation site. They cleared the land of undesirable plants and prepared the area for picnic facilities which the borough planned to build. The gasoline shortage forced cancellation of traditional field trips to Maine and Florida and restricted the EAGLE'S to the immediate area. Mrs. Kohler, advisor, (left) strongly impressed the club with her keen interest in ecology.

Pep Club — Girls Wrestling Auxiliary

Varsity letter winners eagerly accepted bids to membership in the Varsity "E" club. Mr. Shantzenbach's enthusiastic leadership inspired the club to an energetic program of sports related projects. An interest in wrestling was all one needed to belong to the Girls Wrestling Auxiliary which cheered EHS matmen every Thursday night. Both the Pep Club and the Soul Brothers boosted school spirit and encouraged team support. With their catchy cheers on the day of any game they soundly boosted the morale, the confidence, and the desire to win for all the Hornet teams.

Physical Fitness

Any young man capable of doing 100 sit-ups in two minutes, 60 push-ups, 30 pull-ups, and the 300-yard shuttle run in 44 seconds was definitely U.S.M.C. Physical Fitness material.

Trained by Coach George Gibbs, the EHS team moved on through high school, State, Eastern Coast, and National competition. For the third successive year, the team took first place honors in the annual Marine Corps competition at Hershey.

Physical Fitness and Agility — Weightlifting

Organized as the Football Weightlifting Club, Hornet gridders met three times weekly with a single aim — to increase their size and develop strength to overcome any opponent — mentally and physically. Expertly supervised by Mr. Legath, the boys proved the value of the program by turning in a winning season.

Baseball players too worked out in the universal gym under Coach Williams' direction. The Physical Fitness and Agility Club geared its program to proper techniques of weightlifting and controlled physical exercise.

Remember EHS?

Ski Club

With the interest in skiing continually increasing, students turned out in large numbers to become members of the Ski Club. To all who belonged the phrase "Think snow!" became a way of life. Trips to local ski areas provided fun and experience, but attention centered upon the 'big trip' of the year — a skiing weekend in Stowe, Vermont. Mr. Richardson's energy and enthusiasm as advisor set the tone for a busy and successful year.

Soccer Club — Table Tennis Club

Juggling Soccer and the Soccer Club, sponsored by Coach Lyn Schaeffer, met several times weekly to improve soccer skills.

Weight training, coordination, and ball handling received special emphasis to insure skilled and well-disciplined performance on the soccer field.

Table tennis enthusiasts met whenever possible to challenge each other in highly competitive tournament play.

Golf Club

Duffers and champions alike joined the Golf Club to learn more about the game and to improve their scores. Members had the opportunity to see the best in action through movies of many of the major tournaments. Emphasis was placed upon golf as a life-time sport and the value of the individual competing against himself. At times when weather prevented going out on the course, golfers enjoyed indoor putting tournaments for year-round practice.

Rifle Clubs

Interest in target shooting enticed students to join the Rifle Club most suited to their respective degrees of proficiency. Beginners met on Wednesday afternoons with Advisor Richard Ruben to learn the four basic shooting positions and the principles of gun safety. Those with experience in the sport became members of the Advanced Rifle Club advised by Rifle Team Coach Robert Hill. This group met on Tuesday afternoons to improve skills through competition and practice. Their major objective was to shoot for higher certification in the National Rifle Association.

Happy Times at EHS

Stage Crew

Director and cast relied heavily upon the skill of the stage crew.

Effective lighting on cue, scenery construction and arrangement, plus any necessary special effects added to the total effect of dramatic and musical productions. Working behind the scenes, often giving many hours of personal time, the stage crew performed a commendable job.

Concert Band

Selected members of the Green Hornet Marching Band made up the personnel of concert band. Under Mr. Neumeyer's direction the band succeeded in bringing musicianship and entertainment to the student body and to the general public as well. Because of its traditional reputation for excellence, the band attracted a capacity crowd for its annual concert in March. Upon other occasions, the band appeared as a special assembly feature.

Regional and Concert Band Representatives

Outstanding instrumentalists from Emmaus High again ably represented the school in District and Regional musical organizations. Seven students earned the privilege of participating in the District Orchestra concert at Pottsville High School.

Members of the Concert and Marching Bands also displayed the necessary talent to merit selection for Regional Band placement and travelled to Berwick High School to perform in the Regional Concert.

REGIONAL BAND. Norann Hohe, Douglas Bolasky.

DISTRICT ORCHESTRA. Norann Hohe, Monica Garb, Douglas Bolasky, Bonnie Schmoyer.

County and Regional Band

Emmaus High School, and particularly Hornet Band Director Albert Neumeyer, served as host to the annual County Band Festival. Nine local area schools sent their most talented band personnel to join with thirty EHS musicians to prepare for the concert on January 24. Following a get-acquainted dinner in the school cafeteria, the County Band performed in concert under the direction of Mr. Neumeyer and guest conductors Mr. Jack Long and Mr. Angelo Scarpeletti. Seven EHS students were also privileged to attend District Band at Pottsville High School on February 16. Membership in District Band automatically enabled students to try out for Regional Band.

Marching Band

Football spectators frequently found the half-time shows as thrilling as the game itself when the Green Hornet Marching Band took the field. Excellent musicianship and precision marching enhanced by a glittering band front, composed of majorettes, color guard, and banner girls, combined to make each performance spectacular. Variety and originality characterized production themes through the efforts of Mr. Neumeyer, band director, and Miss Shirlee Kovacs, advisor to the EHS Golden Girls

Esquires — Pep Band

Selected and directed by Scott Smith, the Pep Band became a small group of instrumental "cheerleaders" who bolstered school spirit and became the backbone of cheering support for the basketball team. Rhythmic sounds of "Eat 'em up!!" and Dixieland Jazz stimulated student and adult fans in cheering the team on.

Equally talented musicians, the Esquires, delighted audiences with the Big Band Sound. Selected by audition and directed by Mr. Neumeyer, the Esquires played for assemblies, for public concerts, and for dances.

Under the direction of Mr. Albert Neumeyer, the pit orchestra enhanced the total success of COPA's "How to Succeed —." This combination of outstanding individual talent created a musical organization capable of rivaling professional orchestras. Equally talented, 28 vocalists formed the Concert Choir which performed seasonal concerts for school assemblies and community organizations.

CONCERT CHOIR. Mr. G. Wesley (Advisor).

C.O.P.A.

The Council of Performing Arts once again succeeded in presenting a Broadway hit to capacity audiences. "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" starred Glenn Smith, Richard Stoneback, and Brad Timbers in lead roles in this sixth annual COPA production. Director Albert Neumeyer was assisted by Miss Kovacs and Mr. Allen who supervised choreography and set design. A fine supporting cast, a chorus of forty singers and dancers, and a full pit orchestra completed the cast.

Banner Girls and Color Guard

Completing the band front, the Banner girls and Color Guard added sparkle and precision as a gun twirling, high-stepping drill team. Twirling batons and beautiful smiles became the trademark of Emmaus High Majorettes. The EHS Golden Girls entertained spectators with superb half-time shows. Facing freezing temperatures and braving rain or snow, — but always smiling — the Majorette Corps under Miss Kovacs' leadership won wide-spread recognition for the intricacy and perfect execution of a wide variety of routines.

Golf

"FANTASTIC!!" Coach Smith described the '73 golf team performance in this one appropriately descriptive word. On every course the team played, they either set team records or tied former ones. The team averaged $3\frac{1}{2}$ strokes better than any former teams, set 19 school records, and enjoyed a team average of 75.8. All seven varsity lettermen placed in the Top Ten for season match average. Mark Oleksa (73.8) and Jim Peet (74.2) broke the standing record of 75.2.

Varsity Football

Tension mounted as Head Coach Halfacre led the Hornets through victory and defeat. But win or lose, faithful Hornet fans packed the stadium to cheer the team on week after week. A grueling twelve game schedule tested the mettle of both offense and defense, but, to a man, they met the test. In Coach Halfacre's third and final season as coach of the Hornets, he continued to instill desire, a sense of fair play, and a knowledge of gridiron skills in his team.

JayVee and Freshman Football

Future football stars of Emmaus High School ended their seasons with outstanding records. The Junior Varsity squad, coached by Eugene Legath and Jesse Achenbach, compiled a record of 4-2-1 and placed third in the Lehigh Valley League. Similarly, the Freshman Team, coached by Jerold Dougherty and Eugene Schantzenbach, captured a Lehigh Valley Interscholastic Athletic Association Co-Championship with a record of 6-1-1. The cooperation and excellence of performance of the teams and their coaches were apparent to the crowds of interested spectators who came to see a spirited contest and were not disappointed.

Field Hockey

Winning their second league championship in three years, the Varsity Field Hockey team reflected the talented coaching of Mrs. Huber. Advancing to District playoffs, the team suffered a heart-breaking loss to a strong Parkland team, but played well to the finish. The Junior Varsity too played hard and well to post a season record of 7-1-4.

BACK ROW: Coach Claire Alice Rahn, Robin Bortz, Karen Bausman, Sue Reynolds, Audrey Bortz, Tracey Kline, Linda Michael, Jennifer Snyder.

Record-breaking performances highlighted the best record of the Girls' Swimming Team to date — a record of seven wins and three losses.

Junior Robin Bortz placed third in the 100-yard breaststroke in District 11 competition.

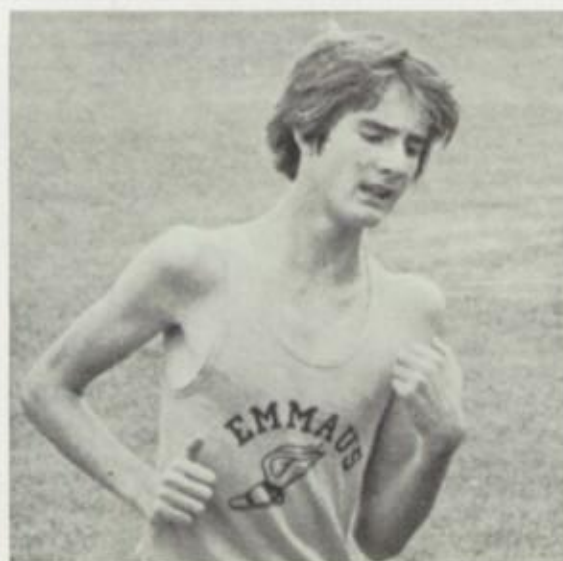

The 200-yard medley relay team — Audrey Bortz, Sue Meade, Robin Bortz, and Wendy Litrides — took fourth place rank in the district meet.

Coach Claire Alice Rahn never wavered in her insistence upon dedication to ever-higher goals.

Girls' Swimming Cross Country

By setting a new school course record of 13:27, Andy Mittura shattered the Emmaus course record of 13:53, after which he went on to compete at state level. The number THREE seemed to control the '73 season. Statistics revealed that EHS placed THIRD in the Lehigh Valley League, took THIRD place in the Lehigh Valley Invitational, came in THIRD in District 11 competition, sent a runner to the State Meets for the THIRD time, and posted its best season in THREE years.

CROSS COUNTRY. BOTTOM ROW: Mark Pearson, Randy Rieder, Scott Lochner, Andy Mittura, Dave Hertzog. BACK ROW: Steve Nixon, David Morris, Peter

Soccer

For its first winning season in EHS soccer history, the team posted a record of 8-5-2 and placed second in Division I of the Eastern Scholastic Soccer League. Only a defeat by Palisades kept them from the Number 1 spot.

Two other firsts were the introduction of night games and the pretty "ball girls" who happily retrieved soaring soccer balls.

Under Coach Richard Weiss, Girls' Tennis was added to the sports program. In its first season the team met nine formidable opponents and finished with the enviable record of 4-4-1.

Cheerleaders took on a new look and introduced new chants and cheers to promote school spirit and increase interest in sports. Many of the innovations resulted from their first attendance at Summer Cheerleading Camp. The cheering squad worked the year round. Beginning with practice sessions during the summer, they planned the year school spirit drive, solicited patrons for the Booster Club program, painted signs, planned pep rallies, and represented varsity sports. They completed their busy year by placing seventh in Lehigh Valley Cheerleading competition at Lehigh.

Girls Basketball

Victory upon victory brought the Girls' Basketball team an outstanding season. Coach Gwen Armitage received special recognition for achieving her 200th career victory on January 25, 1974 when the Hornettes crushed Northampton 56-30. Team member Mary Labanz became the League high scorer with 191 points and was voted the team's most valuable player. The team took the Lehigh Valley League Championship by defeating Slatington 81-63 in a playoff game. They went on to defeat Pine Grove High School in a tight game — 59 to 56 — in the District IX Quarter-Finals. The season ended with the amazing record of 19 wins and 4 losses.

Basketball

Coach Davis and his varsity team experienced a season beset with injuries and bad breaks to finish with a disappointing 8-14 record. In JV play, however, an overall record of 19-3 topped all previous records for JV teams in EHS history. Coach Eugene Schantzenbach led his team to a resounding 12-2 record in league play and swept on to win a LVL co-championship. The Freshmen, coached by Jerold Dougherty, also posted an excellent overall record of 10-0 to take the Lehigh Valley League championship.

Wrestling

"Although we did not do as well as we had anticipated, it was a winning year. We hope to do better next year." Coach William Krebs summed up the 1973-74 wrestling season with these words. Wrestlers ended the season with a league record of 7-6 and a 5-2 overall record. Best individual records were set by senior Ron Krebs, 15-1, and junior John Lucik, 14-2 — both Lehigh Valley Champions. Senior Brad Weller — 13-2 — was Lehigh Valley runner-up.

Emmaus sank all competition and went on to still another championship season. The team charted 42 straight wins for an undefeated record for four years. In District Competition the Medley and Relay teams took First Place. Six swimmers qualified for State Meets where the Medley Relay team placed second and received All-State recognition, an honor also accorded to Eric Fiest and Dirk Crandell. The 200-Yard Medley Relay Team placed eleventh of twenty in the nation and for this received All-American Rating.

Softball

With the coming of spring girls went through rigorous batting and fielding practice and the Hornets softball season was under way. Coaches Linda Schmick and Nancy Kressley, once EHS softball stars themselves, coached the girls to one victory after another.

The tension of crucial games failed to intimidate the girls as they continued to compile the same enviable record as their male counterparts on the diamond. As their season progressed, growing spectator interest attested to the calibre of play which characterized their performance on the field.

Rifle Team — Tennis

Coach Robert Hill described his '74 Rifle Team as a highly cooperative and keenly competitive group. Co-Captains Kirk Trentalange and John Weaver provided leadership and epitomized this spirit as they led their teammates to achieve an overall record of eight wins and eleven losses. Outstanding shooter Terry Hill ended the season with the outstandingly high individual average of 98.81.

Tennis continued to gain popularity both for players and spectators. Coach Bill Sheckler's netmen turned in their best season record.

Track

Emmaus High's Track Team, under the fantastic coaching of Ronald Wessner, posted the outstanding record of seven wins and two losses, the best record in many seasons. Taking the Lehigh Valley Championship fittingly climaxed their highly successful season. Bob Frieling took two firsts in the Long and Triple Jumps in valley competition, while the Mile-Relay Team — Bob Ternosky, Scott Levan, Ken Miller, and Jim Geiling — placed first in valley and second in District 11, Class A competition. Clyde Norelli captured first place in the District Pole Vault event. These records assured their eligibility for further competition at state level. May 23-25 they represented EHS honorably at Penn State University.

Baseball

Emmaus High students felt justifiable pride in their winning baseball team. Attendance records soared as cheering students and interested townspeople came to see the Hornets take the field. Although individuals turned in spectacular performances, team spirit and team play predominated. The spirit and enthusiasm of the experienced players caused them to be able to recruit juniors and sophomores and instill the same desire and hustle in them. Varsity and junior varsity alike turned in a fine record in true Emmaus style.

DR. RICHARD MILLER, Assistant Superintendent

Overall responsibility for the educational program, policy evaluation, public relations, business affairs, staff selection and supervision, and myriad other day-to-day decisions fell ultimately to Dr. Malkan and his staff. To meet the demands of an ever-growing school district, Dr. Richard Miller joined the administrative team and immediately assumed the duties of the position of Assistant Superintendent upon his election in January. Both Mr. Malkan and Dr. Miller worked closely with the school board and the administrative staffs of the elementary and secondary schools to create a quality program of education for the thousands of students of the East Penn School District.

Emmaus High School

Faculty and students extended a warm welcome to Mr. William T. DeLaney in his first year as Principal of Emmaus High. His pleasant manner gave all a chance to know and work with him. His regard for existing traditions and his leadership in innovative policies showed him to be a sensitive administrator. Mr. DeLaney espoused the philosophy of involving students, faculty, and the community in formulating policy and creating programs. He reflected self-confidence in the performance of challenging duties and inspired confidence and cooperation in all those under his supervision.

Administrative Staff

The combined experience of Assistant Principals Albert Miller and Richard Shaak contributed greatly to the smooth administration of Emmaus High School. They worked closely with the principal in the general handling of school affairs and assumed responsibility for attendance, discipline, field trip organization, assemblies, and a variety of student affairs. One of Mr. Shaak's specific duties was class and faculty scheduling. He served as the liaison official between the school and computer center. Both found time to establish effective communication between faculty and administration.

Members of the Guidance Staff found the year to be the busiest ever. Faced with the many administrative and counseling responsibilities resulting from the newly developed quarterly programs in many subject areas, the staff found it necessary to schedule more frequent counseling sessions and to rearrange class schedules. These responsibilities, as well as those of vocational and college counseling, were met because of the sincerity and concern on the part of the entire staff.

English

With the introduction of the quarterly curriculum, students could select the courses best suited to their personal interests and capabilities. Though, as with any new program, there were the accompanying problems of assignment and scheduling, most expressed a liking for the change.

April 23 marked the occasion of an "in-school" field trip for students wishing to have a theater experience. The National Theater Company came to Emmaus to present "Butterflies Are Free" and "The Age of Shaw." More than 600 students attended and found the performance highly entertaining. The experiment had succeeded and the company was signed to return for similar performances on an annual basis.

Science studies started with a boom with a new student experimental weapon — contact explosives. Dissections, field trips to the Lehigh University laboratory, and visits to the planetarium also triggered excitement in science activities. The term marked Mr. Jerome Baer's last year of teaching. Mr. Baer's decision to retire brought to an end a long and successful career in the science department of EHS. Students fondly remember him as for his calmness as they dissected fetal pigs and probed the mysteries of the amoeba.

Social Studies

To make the study of current events more complete and to meet special interests, the Social Studies Department adopted a quarterly curriculum to give students four in-depth courses per term. Students elected the specific areas of history, government, and international studies of their choice. Field trips, limited because of the energy crisis, were more localized to include visits to area colleges and to the district's new Eyer Junior High School to observe the open-space education concept.

Well qualified and sincere in purpose, teachers of mathematics offered a broad range of courses designed to provide "something for everyone." Subject offerings ranged from basic general mathematics courses to highly advanced and specialized courses such as calculus, trigonometry, and advanced algebra. The elective system provided opportunity for students to choose areas closely related to their needs and allowed flexibility and balance in scheduling.

Language students eagerly awaited Easter vacation. It was then they boarded airliners for Spain, France, Germany, and Italy, and spent ten glorious days in the countries of their choice. Experiencing other cultures and putting their fluency to its first real test became an unforgettable event in the lives of many EHS students who had the opportunity to be a part of the overseas field trips. Upon return, they shared the experience with their classmates through pictures, slides and vivid tales.

A fine faculty, interesting educational facilities, and the opportunity for foreign travel encouraged large numbers of students to elect foreign language study. Given the choice of French, German, and Spanish, they progressed from basic instruction to fourth and fifth levels of difficulty. Courses were enhanced with the study of the cultures and history represented by each respective language and occasional dining on continental cuisine.

Business Education in EHS provided a basic education for the student seeking employment immediately after graduation and an excellent background for the one who planned to pursue business training in higher education. Students could select areas of specialization to prepare for a general business or a secretarial career by electing relevant courses from a widely varied and flexible curriculum. A graduated system of awards served to stimulate personal achievement and betterment.

Health and Physical Education

All sophomores received a comprehensive course in Health. Units of instruction covered the physiological and the practical aspects of the subject directed toward the main objective of the course — mental and physical well-being. Guest speakers and a series of audio-visual offerings gave life to textbook theory. Through individual project research, students investigated areas special interest.

Health and Physical Education

Physical Education provided a program of physical fitness training for all students. Through an endless variety of activities, students developed athletic skill and, in the process, became knowledgeable spectators as well.

For students needing more specialized training, a fine program in Adaptive Physical Education offered the means by which all could participate on an individualized basis.

Students interested in the practical arts found a wide variety of subject choices open to them. Courses in child care, family living, consumer education, interior decorating, foods, and clothing prepared future homemakers for family responsibility. Boys enrolled in graphic arts and wood and metal shop courses to learn the skills and fundamentals of a trade. Boys also showed lively interest in learning their way around the kitchen by electing a class in Bachelors' Survival.

Innovation and expansion characterized the reference facilities made available to EHS students. The change of name from Library to Media Center reflected the administration of the work center. Expanded reading areas, centralized storage and distribution of audio-visual materials, and a wide variety of the necessary elements created a functional center for students and faculty. To accommodate students whose time during the school day was limited, the center was opened for reference several evenings per week.

Special Services

ROBERT COULSEY
Special Education

Special Education offered a core program of Mathematics, English, Social Studies, and Science, augmented by Physical Education and the Practical Arts. Students attended school one-half of the day and were involved in active employment during the other half as they participated in the Work-Study Program supervised by Mr. Coulsey.

Miss Graver took a personal interest in the physical well-being of the more than 2100 students of EHS. Giving physical examinations and tests consumed much of her time. In addition, her case load of treating injuries and sudden illness made her one of the busiest people in the school.
